

Sports betting

Sports betting

Sports betting is made on game events (e.g., goals, winning teams, etc.). Players interested in sports can connect their own interest with gambling. Often the players develop an overestimation of their own capabilities, since no certain prediction can be made on the course of the game and its result. For example, strong players or teams can be overestimated.